Frequently Asked Questions

What type of Film is used in the cameras?

Our cameras are pre-loaded with genuine Fuji 400 ISO, 27 Exposure film. The built in flash allows you to take fantastic indoor/outdoor photos.

How long will the film last?

The shelf life of the film is two years.

My friends will give me their photos from their digital cameras.

Own your own photos- friends usually only take photos of you - not of your guests, which is what you want to see!

We can buy cameras on the internet cheaper!

So can we! But your wedding or event is far too important to risk using inferior cameras and we have heard too many horror stories where cameras don't work, photos are poor quality and remember it costs the same to develop cameras that may not work compared to our cameras that do! We, like you, don't believe it's worth the risk!

Digital vs Disposable cameras?

Digital cameras are too expensive to leave on guests' tables at your reception and they can be too complicated to operate for some people, resulting in accidental deletions.

Disposable cameras are simple and easy to use - just aim and shoot - and they give every guest the opportunity to take a great photo.

The photos can still be developed digitally, just ask for your photos on CD when you get your cameras developed and they will be returned as digital files on a CD. Then you can email the photos to your friends and family or print out your own photos from your computer or from any retail outlet.

How long does it take to receive the cameras?

We deliver cameras all over the country.

Orders placed are usually filled and dispatched within 1-3 working days of receipt of payment.

Our cameras are delivered to you via Australia Post E-Parcel - please allow up to one week for delivery.

Australia Post E-Parcel gives each package a consignment number which enables us to track and trace your parcel in the event of any delay.

Urgent delivery can be made using Australia Post Express Post which can be with you within 1-3 working days if you are within the delivery network areas. Please check with us if you need your cameras urgently.

How good are the photographs?

We only use new cameras. We test to ensure the quality is of the highest standard and our cameras take fabulous photos when the simple instructions are followed.

The instructions are printed on the back of each camera and on the table cards supplied. We also provide a speech for the Master of Ceremonies to verbally explain to your guests how to use the cameras. The most important thing to remember is always use the flash when inside and don't take flash photos too far away. One to three metres from the subject is best.

Our money back guarantee.

We have a money back guarantee for the cameras if they are found to be defective. The same replacement warranty stands for processing. We cannot guarantee that your guests will use the cameras properly, but if they follow the straight forward instructions provided, the photos will be superb.
